On Thursday, 16 October 2014, CASELAP will hold a session for PhD (Environmental Law, and Environmental Policy) students to present and discuss their thesis research concepts with Faculty members and fellow students, for critical review and constructive feedback. As part of CASELAP Ph.D teaching and supervision, concept preparation and presentation is a key step to identify research topics, research problem and objectives, before the students can develop full proposals for further faculty review, before formal defence. The session was attended by CASELAP faculty, students, and will be chaired by the Director of CASELAP, Prof Nick Oguge. See programme for the event attached.
